MISS BARRY SETTLES SLANDER SUIT

Accepts $300 Note and a Retraction from Supt. McCollom —Says Report was Indiscreet.

After a two hours' conference of attorneys and the parties interested, the famous Barry-McCollom case was settled before being brought to trial Thursday for the second time before a jury in the superior court at Hartford. The terms of settlement were that Mr. McCollom should give Miss Barry his personal note for $300 and sign a letter of retraction regarding certain statements he made about Miss Barry. Mr. McCollom and Miss Barry were both present at the court house Thursday and Mr. McCollom signed the note and the letter, and they were given to Miss Barry and the suit withdrawn. The letter is as follows:

Hartford, Conn., May 6, 1909.
Miss Helen T. Barry, Norwich, Conn.: Dear Miss Barry: Concerning the communication addressed to Ralph M.
Grant, Esq., secretary of the board of school visitors of the town of South Windor, which has been the subject matter of a suit in the superior court for Hartford county, in the case entitled Helen T. Barry vs. Edward D.
McCollom, I wish to say that all statements therein concerning you were made in haste and without consideration and without due reflection and without reservation I fully and completely retract any and every statement made by me which might be construed as an attack on your moral character or reputation.
Very respectfully,
EDWARD D. MCCOLLOM.

The suit was first tried in the superior court in February, 1909, and McCollom was superintendent of schools in Manchester and South Windor, and Miss Barry, who was formerly employed as teacher in one of the schools of South Windor, sued for $5,000 damages alleging that Mr.

McCollom slandered her in a communication which he addressed to Ralph M. Grant, secretary of the board of school visitors of South Windor. This communication said derogatory things about Miss Barry's personal cleanliness, her ability as a teacher, and her principles and character.
In the trial of the suit the defendant maintained that on or about May 8, 1907, in strict accord with his duty as such superintendent of schools, he made a written report to Ralph M.
Grant, as secretary of the board of school visitors of the town of South Windor, and in said report the defendant stated what he then believed to be an accurate, truthful, unprejudiced account of the conditions in the several schools of said town of South Windor, including therein and as a part of said report the words regarding the plaintiff.

The defense also tried to establish the fact that the report was a privileged communication and intended only for the secretary of the school board and was circulated by Miss Barry's friends and not by the defendant. The jury brought in a verdict of $3,000 damages for Miss Barry.
The case was appealed and the supreme court found errors in Judge Shumway's rulings, and charge, and sent the case back for a new trial.
Mr. McCollom, who is no longer superintendent of schools, still lives in Manchester and conducts a poultry farm. He said that the case had already cost him about $2,500 and it was advisable to cease the litigation.

ONE CASE HEARD IN CIVIL SUPERIOR COURT.

Short Session Only for the Suit of Kelley vs. Kelley—Short Calendar Session Today.

When the superior court came in here on Thursday morning the case of Joseph E. Kelley, a minor son of the late John J. Kelley, against his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Kelley, of Bean Hill, Norwich, was started. It is a suit to recover from the grandmother the balance of the $2,000 which she owed to the grandfather, as it is claimed the grandmother has the means.
The child's mother is his guardian.

John J. Kelley had an insurance of $2,000 in the Catholic Benevolent legion which was made payable to his mother, Mrs. Margaret Kelley. It being taken out before his marriage, and was never changed. He died March 12, 1908, and left his wife and infant son, who is now two years old.

Mrs. Kelley testified that her father is in Ireland and her mother is dead.
She married Mr. Kelley in Ridgefield and she said his mother called to see her son but once during his illness and only got to the house on the last day before he died.

Mrs. Margaret Kelley told of the policy being made payable to her and she recalled paying some of the premiums with money sent her by her son. She said she had used some of her own. Her daughters have agreed to support her and she has the life use of her house.

Miss Margaret Kelley, Mrs. M. Grace Kelley and Mrs. Grace M. Kelley gave further testimony, after which arguments were made by Attorneys Huntington, Perkins and Shields, and Judge Case reserved his decision.

Court adjourned shortly after 1 o'clock and Judge Case left for New London, where he is stopping during the session of the superior court here this morning.

NORWICH TOWN.

Descendant of Rev. James Fitch, One of the Town's Founders, to Preach on Anniversary Sunday.

Rev. Charles N. Fitch of West Cornwall, Conn., a lineal descendant of the Rev. James Fitch, first pastor of the First Congregational church, is to be present and give one of the addresses at the congregational church on Anniversary Sunday, July 4.

Rev. James Fitch was ordained pastor of the Saybrook church in 1688.
He remained pastor until 1690.
When he decided to come with the larger part of his church to found the town of Norwich. Soon after his arrival he received a flattering call to a church in Hartford. His reply was:
"With whom then shall I leave these few poor sheep in the wilderness?"

Mr. Fitch was greatly interested in the Indians. He learned their language and preached to them. Once during a dry season the Indians asked Mr. Fitch to pray for rain. He promised to do so if the Indians would acknowledge that the Indian powwows were fruitless, and that if rain should come God had sent it. Mr. Fitch wrote:
"The next day there was such plenty of rain that our river rose two feet in height."

The Indians gave him several tracts of land, one of which was one mile wide and five miles long and called "Mr. Fitch's mile."

He was pastor until 1694, a period of thirty-four years. He died in Lebanon in 1703 in the 80th year of his age.

CLEAR THE COMPLEXION OVER NIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, this new skin remedy has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialists who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.
In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use possum for these minor skin troubles can avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular 75-cent jar may now be obtained in Norwich at Lee & Osgood's, Shillineau and other leading drug stores.
For sale in Putnam at Larue's; in Danbury at Woodward's,

Peter Robillard Gives Up Farm on Canterbury Turnpike—Sunday School Class Entertained.

Ambrose Cole of Rutland, Vt., is a visitor in Taftville this week, and if he can suitable conference he intends to become a resident of the place.

Rev. Donald H. MacLane entertained the members of the Taftville school class of the Congregational church at his home on Slater avenue Wednesday evening and an enjoyable evening was passed by the young men.

Three local men walked to Greenville and returned Wednesday evening in forty minutes and they think that with a little training they can prove themselves the equals of any walkers in the town.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ponemah Wheel club was held at their clubhouse Tuesday evening. There was a goodly number of members present and the business of the month was quickly transacted. The president, Albert Poyard, presided.

The farm on the Canterbury road, opposite the cemetery, which has been owned and occupied for many years by Peter Robillard, has been purchased by William Gagnon, and the new owner moves from his home in South B street in the village Thursday. Mr.
Robillard, who for a long time was a blacksmith, plans to reside with relfrom Taftville is regretted by many friends.
